I. SPECIAL CONDITIONS
Foyer Global Health
Exclusive

Contents

1. Scope of cover

The insurer provides benefits for illness, diseases, accidents, and other events stipulated in the policy.

In the event of a claim the insurer provides reimbursement of the cost of treatment and other agreed services.

Within the monetary limits of this policy the insurer pays for the medical expenses of each insured person(s) set out in the policy schedule and who have taken out cover under the terms of this policy.

2. Geographic scope

The insurance is valid for the following regions:

- Region 1: Worldwide
- Region 2: Worldwide excluding the United States

The insurance is valid for the region that the insured person's future country of residence is located in.

If insurance cover relates to region 2 insurance cover shall only apply for medical emergencies, accidents and death in the event of temporary travel (i.e. for a maximum of six weeks) to region 1.

Travel for the purpose of treatment in a non-agreed region is not insured.

Any change in the country of residence of the insured person must be notified immediately, since this change affects the premium.

3. Insurability

All persons who are temporarily abroad for at least 3 months are insurable.

Anyone who is permanently resident in the United States will be excluded from insurance cover.

If an insured person takes up permanent resident in the United States then the insurer will terminate the insurance relationship. In the event of moving to any other country, the insurer may on a case-by-case basis, even during an ongoing insurance relationship, check that this policy complies with national law and according to the results, decide whether insurance cover can be maintained or the level of cover needs to be modified or terminated.

The insurer can terminate any individual insurance, if the law regarding insurance cover for nationals, residents or impatriates in a country changes with the effect that the insurance cover provided by the insurer is in breach of national law.

3.1 Inclusion of pre-existing conditions or waiting period

When completing a proposal for insurance, the inclusion of pre-existing conditions on the basis of a health risk assessment and a waiting period may be selected.

3.1.1 Pre-existing conditions

In order to decide on the inclusion of pre-existing conditions from the beginning of the policy, the health questions in the proposal form must be answered truthfully to the best of the insured person's knowledge. In such cases the applicant must undergo a medical examination. Depending on the result of the medical examination the insurer can extend the policy by adding further terms and conditions, charge an additional premium or refuse the proposal/ the insurance of a person. Any illness that arises in the period between proposal and acceptance of that proposal will be considered to be a pre-existing condition.

3.1.2 Waiting period clause

Instead of applying for a comprehensive medical risk assessment, the insured person can - if he/she is 55 or younger - opt for a "waiting period". In this case, insurance cover will be granted for any condition suffered by the person to be insured in the five years prior to inception of the insurance cover only after a continuous waiting period of two years without medical treatment, symptoms, advice or medication for that pre-existing condition. If the insured person during the first two years of insurance cover receives medical treatment, advice or medication for that pre-existing condition then the waiting period of two years (without medical treatment, advice or medication) for that condition begins again. Services for new illnesses not linked to that condition will be immediately reimbursed.

4. Benefits

4.1. General information

The insurer will provide a 100% refund of eligible expenses, as described and to the extent set out in the following benefit overviews, unless otherwise agreed in the general conditions or definitions.

4.2. Deductibles

Depending on the insurance plan taken out the insurer will provide 100% refund of eligible expenses up to the maximum annual limit specified in the following benefit overviews, unless otherwise documented in those benefit overviews, the general information in the general conditions or the definitions.

4.2.1 Deductibles

The Global Health Exclusive plan has the following deductible variants:

- EUR 0
- EUR 250
- EUR 500
- EUR 1,000

The deductible applies per insurance year and per insured person and only for outpatient treatments.

If the insured person has agreed a deductible with the insurer, the insurer will refund 100% of eligible expenses for outpatient treatment less the agreed deductible.

Expenses are allocated to the policy year in which the doctor or medical practitioner has been consulted and the medication, dressings and medical aids were provided.

4.2.2 Increased benefits for region 1

If the insured person has taken out insurance cover for region 1 (= worldwide) then the limits and maximum amounts set out in 4.3.2, 4.3.3 and 4.3.4 will be doubled (irrespective as to whether the medical treatment takes place in the United States or not).

If a benefit is limited to a certain number of days or sessions then this limit applies unchanged. If a deductible has been agreed, this will remain unchanged.

4.3. Benefits

4.3.1. General

The insured person is free to choose between the established and recognised doctors and dentists in the country in which the treatment is to be provided. As far as is provided for in the tariff, the services provided by other persons, who offer medical treatment may be acceptable for cover.

Medical and dental services, as well as the services provided by other medical practitioners are eligible for cover, in so far as their charges are calculated on the basis of scales of charges that are typical in that country. Cover may also apply to charges that exceed those scales if these are justified and reasonable in view of the illness and any diagnosis-related complications. In the case of practitioners such as masseurs, midwives or naturopaths, for which no separate scale of charges exists in the foreign country, the insurer will use the comparable remuneration for doctors or else the usual prices in that country.

In cases of reimbursement of dental technical laboratory work and materials the insurer will use the average prices in that country. Dental prostheses, dental implant services and orthodontics when these services are performed by a doctor, they will also to be regarded as services by a dental practitioner. They are not the subject of outpatient or inpatient treatment. The insurer provide cover within the policy scope for examinations or treatment methods and medications that are recognised by orthodox medicine. The insurer also provide cover for methods and medicines that have been seen to be effective in practice or are used because no orthodox medical protocol exists. The insurer may however reduce the benefits payable to the level that would have applied if available orthodox medical protocols and medicines had been used.

Detailed benefit descriptions for inpatient treatments

General hospital treatment and accommodation and care in a single or twin-bed room

When medical treatment becomes necessary in a hospital environment then the insured person can choose freely between hospitals in the country where treatment is to take place. Treatment in a hospital means any treatment, in which the person to be treated is admitted to a hospital for at least 24 hours to be treated medically and receive care.

When medically necessary treatment is carried out in hospitals that also provide cures or sanatorium or convalescence treatment, cover is only provided for those benefits set out in the policy and where the insurer has approved these in writing before the start of treatment.

The insurer provides cover for the duration of inpatient treatment without any time limit.

Medical services (including pathology, radiology, computed tomography, magnetic resonance imaging, positron emission tomography and palliative care)

Cover shall apply to the expenses incurred for the necessary medical treatment as an inpatient for examinations, diagnostics and therapy.

Hospital costs, including operating room, intensive care and laboratory work

This refers to other costs for the use of specialised facilities such as operating rooms, intensive care units and the laboratories.

Surgery and anaesthesia

This refers to costs incurred for the necessary services, such as for example medical services, anaesthesia and the use of specialised facilities. Expenses for outpatient surgery are also eligible in so far as these replace an inpatient stay.

Operations performed as an outpatient instead of inpatient

Outpatient treatment, which can be performed in a doctor's surgery or in a hospital, but does not require to be followed by a stay overnight and a hospital stay.

Drugs and dressings

Drugs, dressings, treatment and medical aids must have been prescribed by a competent medical authority in the hospital during an inpatient stay. In addition, the drugs must have been obtained from a pharmacy or by another source that is approved by the authorities.

Classic homoeopathy medicines are also considered as fully-fledged medicines.

Nutritional food, tonics, mineral water, cosmetics, products for personal hygiene as well as bath salts are not considered to be drugs.

Physiotherapy, including massage

Physiotherapy and massages must have been prescribed by a hospital doctor as part of inpatient medical treatment. In addition, they must be performed by a doctor or a certified therapist. The prescription must be issued before the start of treatment and mention the diagnosis and the type and number of sessions.

Therapies, including occupational therapy, light therapy, hydrotherapy, inhalations, packs, medical baths, cold and/or heat treatment, electrotherapy

These physio-medical services must have been prescribed by a hospital doctor as part of inpatient medical treatment. In addition, they must be performed by a doctor or a certified therapist. The prescription must be issued before the start of treatment and mention the diagnosis and the type and number of sessions.

Therapeutic aids and appliances

Cover applies to costs incurred for those therapeutic aids and appliances that serve as a life-saving measure or directly mitigate or compensate for physical disabilities, such as cardiac pacemakers and artificial limbs/prostheses (except dentures). These must be adjusted during the inpatient stay and remain in or on the body. Expenses for the repair of such medical aids are eligible for reimbursement under the above terms and conditions.

Services for pregnancy and childbirth, services of a midwife or attendant in the hospital

The insurer will cover eligible expenses up to EUR 20,000* for childbirth in a hospital, a maternity or a comparable institution, as well as the expenses for nursing care at home or domestic help, that is necessary due to the pregnancy or pregnancy-related illness, as well as for the services of a midwife or attendant.

A waiting period of 10 months applies.

Pregnancy and childbirth complications

The insurer will cover eligible expenses in connection with premature birth, miscarriage, abortion, stillbirth, ectopic pregnancy, molar pregnancy, caesarean birth, post-partum haemorrhaging, placenta retention and complications from these conditions.

A waiting period of 10 months applies.

Newborn Care

Medical expenses cover for newborn children begins immediately after the birth, without any waiting period and without risk assessment. This is providing that on the date of the birth of the child, both parents have been insured with the insurer for medical expenses for at least three months, and the request for insurance of the child is received not later than two months after the birth with retroactive effect to the first of the month in which the child was born. Insurance cover cannot be wider or more comprehensive than that of the insured parents. New-born children may only be insured in insurance plans that are available for new policies.
If the biological mother is still within the waiting period for pregnancy and childbirth cover then medical expenses will not reimbursed for this. However, there is insurance cover for newborn care as long as the above conditions are met.

If an under-age child is adopted then an individual medical risk assessment shall be carried out for insurance purposes. For technical reasons a surcharge of up to 500% of the tariff rate may be applied after the risk assessment

Congenital conditions

The insurer provide cover for eligible expenses up to a maximum amount of EUR 200,000 for the entire lifetime for all disorders or diseases found at birth, anomalies, birth defects and malformations, errors during birth, prematurity and malformations including related illnesses.

Cancer therapy, oncology medicines and medical treatment, including reconstructive surgery after breast cancer

As part of inpatient hospital care the insurer assume the eligible expenses for medical services, diagnostic tests, radiation therapy, cancer therapy, drugs and hospital costs.

* The quoted amounts apply – if not otherwise specified – per person and insurance year

Bone marrow or organ transplantation (costs for both donors and recipients)

In cases of bone marrow or organ transplantation (for example heart, kidney, liver, pancreas) the insurer assumes the eligible expenses for both the patient as well as the donor. Recoverable costs are those associated with organ procurement from an organ donor, the costs for organ transportation to where the patient is located as well as the expenses for possible inpatient stay for the donor, but not the costs for searching for an organ or a suitable donor.

Psychiatric services

The insurer will refund the expenses for psychiatric services as part of inpatient treatment, provided the insurer have given prior written approval before the beginning of the treatment.

A waiting period of 10 months applies.

Inpatient Psychotherapy

A prerequisite for refund is that treatment is given by a psychiatrist, a psychotherapist or a doctor further trained in the specialist field of psychiatry, psychotherapy or psychoanalysis. For inpatient psychotherapy the insurer provide cover only if and to the extent that the insurer have given prior written approval before the beginning of the treatment

A waiting period of 10 months applies.

Refund of parent's costs when accompanying a child under 18 for inpatient treatment

The insurer will refund the additional expenditure for the prescribed presence of a parent at the bedside of a child under 18 admitted for inpatient treatment.

Home nursing care and domestic help

The insurer will assume the eligible expenses for prescribed home nursing care and domestic help by appropriate, trained persons as a substitute for a medically recommended hospital stay or to shorten such a stay. Home nursing care is in addition to medical treatment and is refundable in addition to this. The insurer will refund this for a maximum of 90 days per hospital stay after written approval.

Daily hospital allowance for inpatient treatment where no claim has been made on the insurer

The insurer will pay a daily hospital allowance of €200* for inpatient treatment where no claim has been made on the insurer.

Inpatient rehabilitation

Costs are refundable for inpatient rehabilitation in continuation of medically necessary inpatient hospital treatment, for example, after bypass surgery, a heart attack, organ transplantation, as well as operations on large bones or joints, provided and to the extent that the insurer have given prior written approval. Inpatient rehabilitation must in principle begin within 2 weeks after discharge from the hospital. Cures and stays in cure establishments, spas, sanatoriums and convalescent homes as well as in nursing homes are not insured. The insurer will refund inpatient rehabilitation for a maximum of 35 days per hospital stay after written approval.

Hospice

If no non-hospital care for the insured persons can be provided in their own or a family member's home, and under the condition that the hospice works with experienced palliative medicine nurses and doctors as well as being under the technical responsibility of a nurse or other qualified person, who has several years' experience in palliative care or has appropriate training and can prove training for a responsible positions in palliative care. Then the insurer will reimburse expenses for accommodation, food, care and support depending on the condition.

A prerequisite for the granting of benefits for full or semi-inpatient hospice treatment is that the insured person must be suffering from an illness

- that it is progressive, meaning that it is progressively getting worse, and has already reached a very advanced stage and
- Recovery is not possible so that inpatient palliative care is necessary and only a limited life expectancy of weeks or a few months can be expected.

Hospice benefits will be granted amongst others for the following conditions:

- Advanced cancer
- Full-blown state of the infectious disease Aids
- Disease of the nervous system with inexorable progressive paralysis
- Final state of chronic kidney, liver, heart, digestive tract or lung disease.

Hospice expenses will be refunded for a stay of up to 9 weeks for the duration of the contract.

Day hospital (partly inpatient) treatment

Day hospital treatment shall mean treatment in a hospital without overnight stay. The length of the stay in hospital is between eight and 24 hours.

Transport to the next available suitable hospital for primary care after an accident or in an emergency

The insurer will reimburse the reasonable transport costs to the nearest suitable hospital or to the nearest suitable medical facility.

Acupuncture, homoeopathy, osteopathy and chiropractic, including medicines and dressings

The insurer will only cover eligible expenses if the above treatment is carried out by doctors or other practitioners, who can prove they have certified appropriate training in the country where the treatment is given and that they are approved or authorised there to dispense such treatment.

The drugs and dressings prescribed by those doctors or physicians in the course of the treatment are also eligible for reimbursement.

The insurer will reimburse these services up to an amount of EUR 5,000* per year of insurance.

* The quoted amounts apply – if not otherwise specified – per person and insurance year

Speech therapy

In speech and voice disorders the insurer will cover eligible expenses for prescribed practice sessions, provided that these are conducted by a doctor or speech therapist. The insurer provide cover for this only if, and to the extent that the insurer have given prior written approval before the start of the treatment

Psychiatric services

The insurer will refund the expenses for psychiatric services provided the insurer has given prior written approval before the beginning of the treatment.

A waiting period of 10 months applies.

Outpatient psychotherapy

A prerequisite for refund is that treatment is given by a psychiatrist, a psychotherapist or a doctor further trained in the specialist field of psychiatry, psychotherapy or psychoanalysis. The insurer will refund the expenses for outpatient psychiatric services provided the insurer have given prior written approval before the beginning of the treatment.

A waiting period of 10 months applies.

Drugs and dressings

Drugs and dressings must be prescribed by a medical doctor or dentist or an authorised practitioner. Such drugs must come from a pharmacy or other officially approved supplier. Nutritional food, tonics, mineral water, cosmetics, products for personal hygiene as well as bath salts are not considered to be drugs.

Over-the-counter medicines

The insured person may buy non-prescription medicines without a prescription; usually they are for the treatment of symptoms of common diseases for which the insured person does not necessarily have to visit a doctor.

The insurer will reimburse these up to an amount of EUR 100* per year of insurance.

Physiotherapy, including massage

This means physio-medical services (physiotherapy and exercise therapy, massages), that are available on prescription. In addition, they must be performed by a doctor or a certified therapist. The prescription must be issued before the start of treatment and mention the diagnosis and the type and number of sessions.

These are physio-medical services (occupational therapy, light therapy, hydrotherapy, inhalations, packs, medical baths, cold and/or heat treatment, electrotherapy and exercise therapy) for which a prescription is required. In addition these must be provided by a doctor or certified therapist and must have been prescribed by the doctor as part of outpatient medical treatment. The prescription must be issued before the start of treatment and mention the diagnosis and the type and number of sessions.

* The quoted amounts apply – if not otherwise specified – per person and insurance year

Therapeutical aids and appliances

Costs eligible for refund are those incurred for the purpose of outpatient treatment for orthopaedic and prosthetic appliances, as well as other devices which are used to prevent physical disabilities or directly to mitigate or compensate for this. Medical aids must be prescribed by a doctor and must not be considered as general consumer goods.

Medical aids for the purpose of outpatient treatment shall mean: Bandages, trusses or shoe inlays, crutches, hearing aids, compression stockings, artificial limbs/ prostheses (excluding dental prostheses), lounger and seat pans, orthopaedic body, arm and leg support devices and speech equipment (electronic larynx).

The following medical aids are eligible only after the insurer's prior written approval: Wheelchairs, cardiac and respiratory monitoring devices, infusion pumps, inhalation devices, oxygen equipment and surveillance monitors for babies. Other aids are not considered as medical aids.

Expenses for the repair of such medical aids are eligible for reimbursement under the above terms and conditions. Expenses for sanitary supplies such as pads and massage devices for example, as well as for use and maintenance of such aids are not eligible for refund.

Vaccinations and immunizations

Costs incurred for preventive vaccination and prophylactic measures are refundable, in so far as they are recommended for the insured person's particular country of residence, including the medical costs for the administration of the vaccine and the cost of the vaccine itself.

Visual aids, including Eye Test

Costs incurred for spectacle frames and lenses, as well as contact lenses and refraction measurement are refundable up to EUR 250* per year of insurance.

Transport to the next available suitable hospital for primary care after an accident or in an emergency

Cover shall apply to the expenses of transportation to the nearest suitable hospital for primary care after an accident or in an emergency.

Fertility Treatment

After prior written approval the insurer will bear the costs in the terms and conditions of the agreed scope of cover, as for example for the following recognized treatments:

- In-vitro fertilisation (IVF)
- Intracytoplasmic sperm injection (ICSI)

Costs will be assumed under the condition that

- At the time of treatment (first stimulation day of each cycle or else the first cycle day if insemination without hormonal stimulation) the woman has not yet reached the age of 40 and the man 50.
- there is organic-related infertility of the insured persons that can be overcome by means of assisted reproductive techniques alone
- Medical assessment has ascertained a significant possibility of success of over 15 % for the selected method and that the man and the woman have international insurance with the insurer.

* The quoted amounts apply – if not otherwise specified – per person and insurance year

The insurer will refund 50% of the costs incurred in connection with undergoing fertility treatment, including diagnosis and treatment, up to a maximum of EUR 15,000 for the whole contract duration.

A waiting period of 10 months applies.

Dental care after an accident

If dental treatment is necessary as a result of an accident, all waiting periods are waived. The accident must be proven to the insurer by a doctor or police report.

4.4. Cover limitations

Cover does not extend to diseases, including their consequences, as well as for death and the consequences of accidents due to military operations, military service, riot and civil commotion, not expressly included in the insurance.

There is no cover for illnesses, treatment and accidents caused wilfully nor their consequences or for treatment or stays in an institution for drug withdrawal.

Unless otherwise laid down in the tariffs, there is no cover for cures and treatments as well as for rehabilitation in a sanatorium.

There is no liability to provide cover for treatment provided by spouses, parents or children. Proven material expenses will be reimbursed.

There is no cover for cosmetic measures of all types and their consequences.

There is no cover for attempted suicide.

For treatment provided by doctors, dentists, naturopaths and in hospitals, for which the insurer has refused refunds for serious reasons, no benefit is payable if the insured event occurs after the policyholder has been notified of the exclusion. If at the time of claims notification treatment has not yet finished, there is no obligation to refund costs incurred more than three months after said notification.

There is no cover for accommodation due to dependency (long-term care) or minding.

There is no cover for medical reports, treatment and expense summaries that the policyholder or insured person are bound to supply.

* The quoted amounts apply – if not otherwise specified – per person and insurance year

There is no cover for the insured person's loss of autonomy or when the insured person needs to be constantly looked after. Staying at home and/or receiving non-medical care at home or in a convalescence home or similar or in a psychiatric home or similar shall give rise to no cover.

If medical care or other treatment delivered shall exceed that which is medically necessary then the insurer may reduce its benefits accordingly. In addition, the insurer shall be entitled to such a reduction, if excessive sums are charged for such medically necessary treatment or for any other service.

For claims arising before inception of policy cover, that part of the claim falling before inception or during the waiting period shall be excluded.

The insurer do not provide cover for the operational and hormonal approximation of the biological sexual characteristics of the other sex.

The insurer do not provide cover for treatment or surgery to correct the insured person's vision, for example by laser, refractive keratotomy (RK) and photo refractive keratotomy (PRK). Cover does apply to the correction of the insured person's vision when this is necessary due to a disorder, illness or injury (e.g. cataract or detached retina).

5. Tariff

The premium shall be set at the time of taking out cover on the basis of the country in which the insured person is staying. If there is any change of residency during policy validity to region 2, then rating will be adjusted accordingly at the beginning of the next policy year. If there is a change of residency during policy validity to region 1 then the premium will be adjusted immediately

If after a birthday the insured person moves into another age category then the premium will be adjusted to the new age category.
